
Moving beyond the limits that restrict individual liberty
Clears the way for an awakening of consciousness
The natural expansion of the mind's dominion
Paving the way for insights of an unworldly nature
To transcend the mold we are cast in upon birth
So the minds petals unfold like those of a beautiful flower
Requires nothing more than an open heart and the Willingness to embrace the unknown without fear
For the mind's eye to comprehend the timeless mysteries
The limiting beliefs that bind one to the material realm
Must fall away like leaves from the branches of a tree
The flowering of consciousness symbolic of the internal Transformation one experiences as the veils fall away
Revealing the authentic light from which all life springs
